

I believe there is way too much violence and sexual content on television today and children are reacting to it in very negative ways. Children become what they learn.